

Top 5 Animals

By Alex Switzer

When my friend Andy reached out to me and asked me to create a document to send him, I knew I had to crack down and create the best rootin' tootin' document this side of the Amtrak rails had ever seen. I thought to myself, 'What could I write on this page that could provide value to everyone who should read it and my friend Andy?', and it hit me like a bag of lightning. I would create a list of all the top 5 animals in the world. Now, without further ado, here's the list you've probably been frothing at the mouth for in anticipation:

5. Fall Monkey

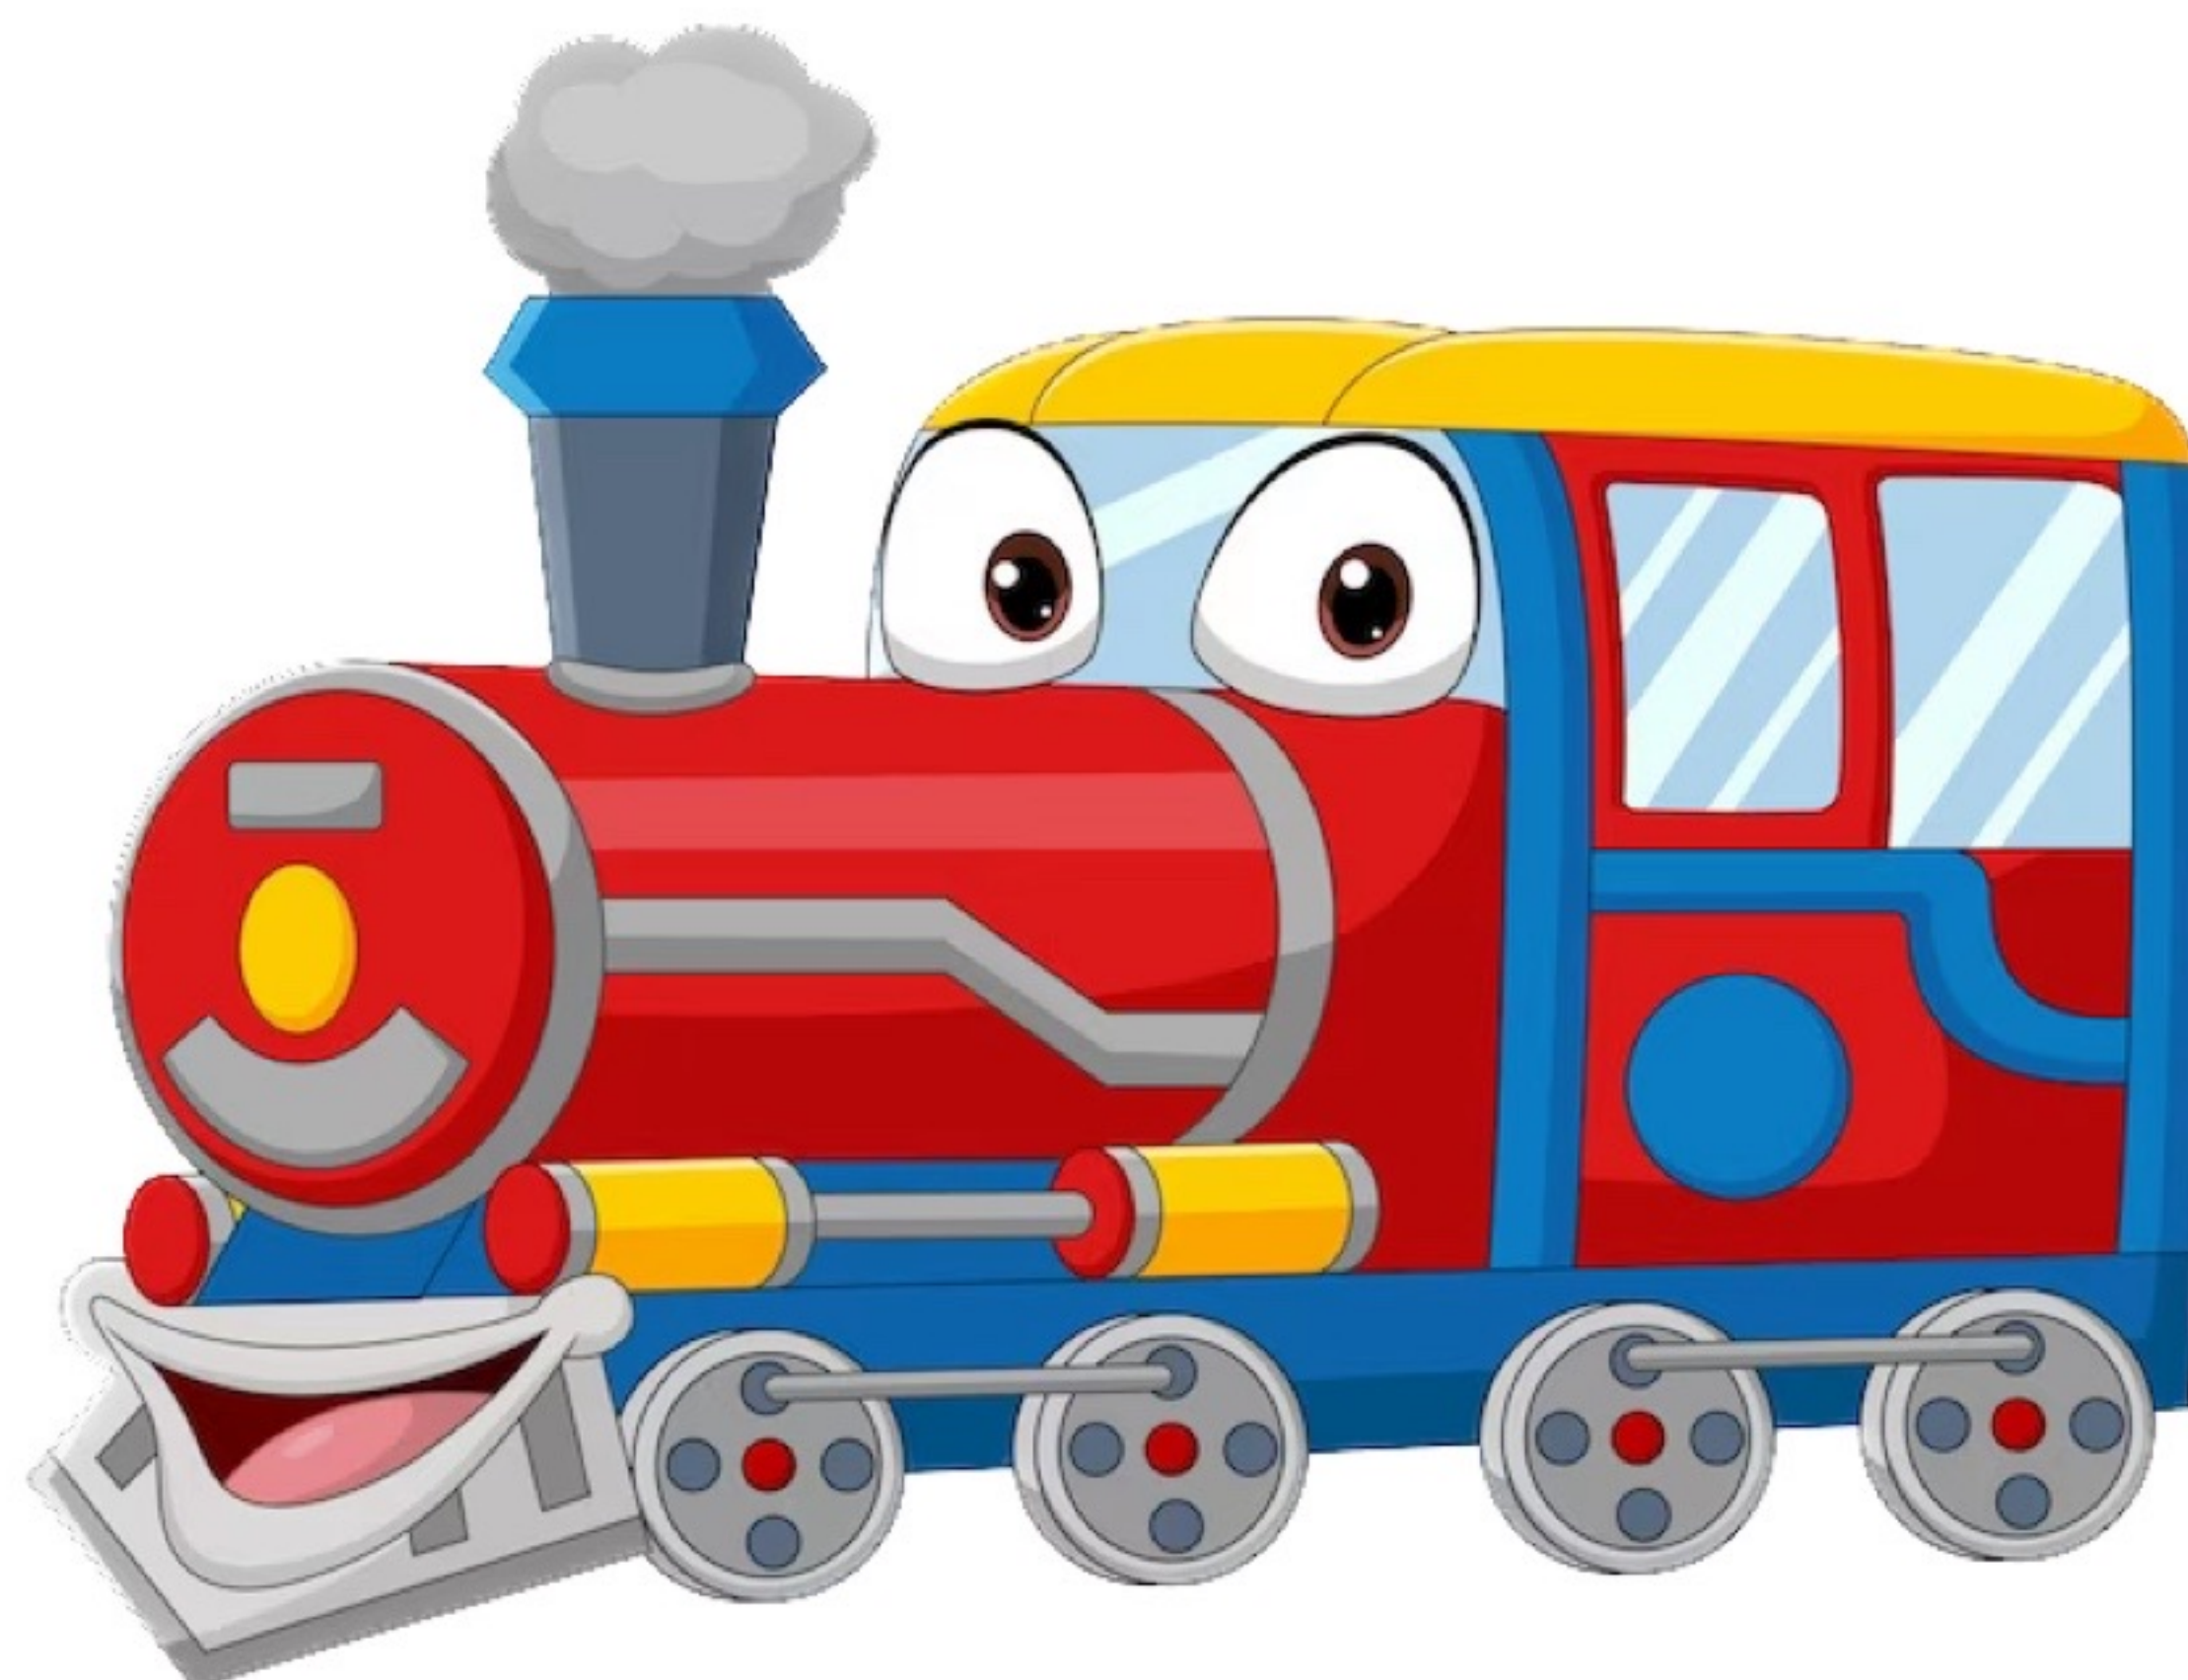

You may notice that this monkey is a lot like the game Fall Guys, and you're exactly right. That is what he is trying to imitate.

4. Health Nut Cheetah

In this picture we see a Cheetah animal stretching out his neck on this tree. Most animals don't care about their flexibility and health, so this cat is awesome.

3. Thomas Train

Now you might be thinking, "Thomas Train isn't animal??!!" And if that's the case, get over yourself. Obvious top 3.

2. Stand Up Comedy Dog

Here we see a dog who is trying to cheer up these cold penguins by telling them jokes, and the penguins are loving it. We had to include a dog on the list for notoriously being the best stand up comedians.

1. Lesser Slow Loris

Honestly, Lesser Slow Loris would be upset if he knew I was telling you this. He bribed me to be in the number one spot, but he's seen you around and thinks your very cute, and just wants to get some coffee sometime. He's a good guy, give him a chance. Just look at those adorable eyes, you just know all the attention will be on you. (Disclaimer: did not ask whether or not Lesser Slow Loris has dangerous intentions)
